

Masseria Ceratonia – CIS LE075031014S0014573

Elegant farmhouse with swimming pool a few minutes drive from some of the most famous beaches on the Ionian coast, Masseria Ceratonia is located in the highest part of the countryside, overlooking the Bay of Gallipoli and is named after a famous centuries-old carob tree located at the property. The traditional architectural structure is juxtaposed with a contemporary choice of materials for the furnishings and finishes, it consists of a central body constructed from the old tower of a seventeenth century residence for Basilian monks and four annexes that were probably the warehouses of the property which have been transformed into beautiful suites. Besides having a large garden which creates a beautiful green expanse between the main building, outbuildings and swimming pool, it is flanked on its right side by a beautiful olive grove inside the small natural stone quarries which feature a perfectly maintained old pajara. The stunning views can be enjoyed from the terraces on the roof; whether you decide to admire the olive trees in the rolling countryside or you choose to watch the sea of the Bay of Gallipoli, all options guarantee unforgettable sunsets and landscapes.
